eXCITE TIPS

7 Oct 2009
Moving on from "Tour Guide", I made a new topic for new users, but if you want to follow my help & guides or just enjoy my hints, tours and other items, this are welcome :)
eXCITE (an abbreviation of Exciting Canadian TIPS) is a site I made to list some tips that I came to know for my game (and my other game Dungeon Masters) and that are bit or much tips.
Allow me to explain how I created this site a little more detailed :
I must say I am a Java programmer, I worked on Main GIL prior to create eXCITE, sadly, as work on Main GIL is no longer active (since nearly 2 years), I am more on Java than on C++ and I am free to modify the whole codebase to create what I want :P
Well I invite you if you have suggestions or tips. Will keep my list updated over time on changes, fixes or new items.
PS : if you have suggestions, I will be glad to consider it for the "Newest items" section, it will automatically move after the pile of the 6 months.
PS2 : if you think it is not of use to you, any suggestions, just forget it or if you want to leave a note, just slap my face...
Before clicking on "add", just type in the following fields :

Effects of redox properties and energy-dependent reduction process of an octatitanate-based catalyst. Octatitanate (Ti8O4) nanoparticles have great potential in solar driven devices as an efficient photocatalyst due to their unique structure and properties. In this paper, for the first time, the effects of redox properties and electron-hole pair generation dynamics on the photocatalytic activity of Ti8O4 nanoparticles have been investigated. The redox properties were controlled by the number of calcium atoms and oxidation state of calcium. We have demonstrated that the semiconducting band gap of Ti8O4 increases from 2.08 eV (as-synthesized Ti8O4) to 2.95 eV (calcined Ti8O4). The obtained Ti8O4 under neutral and alkaline conditions show the conversion of gaseous ethylene into ethane, ethanol, and ethylene oxide. For the comparison study, the photocatalytic activities of Ti8O4 nanoparticles prepared by calcination at different temperatures for different times were investigated. The calcined Ti8O4 (500°C, 24 h) yields the highest ethylene conversion (0.33%), which is at least 5.5 times higher than that of as-synthesized Ti8O4. This significant improvement can be attributed to redox properties and changes in the electron-hole pair generation dynamics. The obtained results indicate that the calcined Ti8O4 can be used as an efficient photocatalyst.Q: How to add dropdownlist to entity in Entity framework? i have class like this: public class Book { public int bookID {get; set;} public string bookName {get; set;} } i need to create a View for a list of this class, i searched in internet and i found it is better to use the select asp.net mvc, so i tried to add to view a dropdownlist for selecting list of Book, then i found how to do it in entity framework.
