At the end of the day, we're the ones in uniform," said the man, who did not provide his name or his rank. "The guys are just checking off boxes." AD Still, other commanders expressed frustration with the chain of command that allowed the problems to occur and said that they hoped that the Army leadership could better understand the challenges faced by junior leaders and field grade officers in the field. "In my mind, it's a little bit presumptuous on the part of the senior commanders, to a certain extent, to throw their hands up and say, 'The junior leader is responsible for what he does on the battlefield.' That's not an environment I would like to be in," said the senior commander, who spoke on the condition of anonymity because of the topic's sensitivity. AD Capt. Thomas A. Brown, chief of personnel and readiness for the Army G-8 — which includes the Army chief of staff, the commandant of the Marine Corps, the chief of naval operations and the Army's deputy chief of staff for logistics — came to the Pentagon this week, in response to a specific request from Army Chief of Staff Gen. Mark Milley. AD Brown's visit to the Army War College reflected "a robust interest by the Army in improving the tempo and quality of leadership.
