A fantasy action RPG set in a vast world where many players battle together in an online multiplayer RPG system. About Silicon Studio Silicon Studio Co., Ltd. was established in Tokyo, Japan in 2006, and is currently headquartered in Kamakura, Kanagawa. Major Products Goblin Slayer (PSP/PS2) Tales of Rebirth (PSP/PS2) MARVEL VS. CAPCOM 3 (PSP/PS3) Marvel Vs. Capcom 3: Fate of Two Worlds (PSP/PS3) MARVEL VS. CAPCOM: INFINITE UNLIMITED (PSP) © 2011-2016 Silicon Studio Co., Ltd.By modern standards, the two schools were only a few years ahead of their time. The two institutions – a public school and a private school, separated by the East River on Roosevelt Island – had nearly identical numbers of students and faculty: 17,000 students and 450 teachers, respectively. They were both co-ed, though the boys' school was known for its academics and the girls' school for its sports teams. The schools' auditoriums seated 6,000 people, and the school houses were white – while the houses the white school's students lived in were "Eastern blue." The schools' location atop the river made them a particularly convenient landmark. They were equally easily accessible from the subway and by ferry, though in the days before the nearby Long Island Railroad and subway lines connected, the ferry was the only way of getting there. "The city owned the island," said David Fishel, a history professor at the New York Institute of Technology. "[The city] decided: 'Okay, these kids don't have a father, so I'll move them over to the other side of the island.'" [Update: The original version of this story said the school was founded by James Watson. The claim was inaccurate, and has been corrected.] In the 20th century, Mr. Watson and Mr. Ferrer, two pillars of the liberal education movement, fought to elevate the role of history, economics, science and math in the schools. Mr. Watson, who was one of the era's most charismatic lecturers, taught at the boys' school. And when

AuthPlay - Beta Access

AuthPlay is a preproduction tool I developed at the NINAP team of mine that allows to simulate authentication process and makes developer testing much easier.It allows you to simulate multiple identification points ensuring that you always have access to a working authentication framework. Through extensive test scenarios, AuthPlay manages the complexity of different authentication methods in a simple manner without maintaining many legacy code and inputs.

Takenetwork: Campaign for Sustainability

Takenetwork is a project by Sustainable Coastlines with Takenetwork.com and Hobbiesacral.org. Together, we ask the question: Is it possible to develop a new, environmentally responsible economic paradigm?

In the process of answering this question, we engage audiences around the world to consider what can be done practically with the developmental assets at our disposal. We do this by utilizing the creative industries' distinct skills, impact and credibility to produce dynamic and audience-engaging campaign materials that can be used to bring public awareness to the importance of climate protection and environment-related issues. We find creative ways to develop useful, thought-provoking, beautiful or engaging content. When done well, these content assets can serve as holistic educational tools to explain complex environmental challenges. They can be used as conversation starters and design inspiration to spread awareness on a global scale.
